Dimitris Anousis

Pianist - composer - arranger - accordionist - producer of artistic events - piano & theoretics teacher - artistic director/manager of AN ART ARTISTRY & AN ART ARTISTRY RECORDS.

Born in Athens, Greece (1980). He holds degrees of accordion, piano, music theoretics and two higher diplomas (for piano and composition) from Greece, and he has studied piano in Ferenc Liszt music Academy in Hungary (Budapest).

As a composer he has produced 40 major works for various instrumental combinations and as an arranger has made hundreds original orchestrations. His works and orchestrations have been played in Greece and abroad. He also composes music for radio, television, theater, cinema, advertising etc.

As a pianist, he has participated in national competitions and has been awarded. He has presented several piano recitals with works of the vast solo piano & chamber music literature (Bach, Schumann, Beethoven, Schubert, Liszt, Mahler, Franck, Saint Saens, Bartok, Khachaturian etc.). "...a young aspiring and vigorous artist... which played with great gusto... pianist Dimitris Anousis did a great job at highlighting the underlying orchestral texture..." from a review of a recital at the newsletter no.111, 6/2013 of "Liszt Society" UK.

He has presented (premieres) and recorded, original works of composers of the 20th & 21st century. He has collaborated with many musicians, singers, conductors and has performed in most concert halls in Athens, in other cities of Greece and Hungary.

He teaches piano & music theoretics in conservatories, workshops, masterclasses, festivals etc. Since 2011 he is part of juries in piano and composition National Competitions.

Since 1998, apart of been classical pianist, he also works as a "cocktail pianist" and accompanist in opera & lieder productions. He is a keen researcher of rare piano repertoire of earlier times.
